

I believe it is wise to limit the number of radio/TV stations and other media one can own in order to prevent too much media consolidation, which can lead to a lessening of diversity of views present in radio/TV stations and other media.